Key Findings
The Netflix dataset reveals several key patterns:

- It includes title details such as type, country, release year, rating, genres, and descriptions, with missing values in fields like director, cast, country, and date added.

- Movies make up the most of the catalog, while TV Shows represent a smaller share.
- The United States is the most represented country, followed by India and several European and Asian countries.
- Drama and International Movies are the most common categories, along with Comedy, Action&Adventure, and Documentaries.
- Recent release years contain significantly more titles, reflecting the library's growth over time.
- Overall, Netflix offers a diverse, internationally influenced catalog dominated by movies and popular genres such as drama, international content, and comedy.